

Nordic Journal of Renaissance Studies

17

2020

MEANINGFUL MEMORIES: A cultural memory perspective on humanist interaction with the past

eds. Lærke Maria Andersen Funder
& Trine Arlund Hass

Meaningful Memories, eds. Lærke Maria Andersen Funder and Trine Arlund Hass
Nordic Journal of Renaissance Studies 17 • 2020
General Editor of NJRS: Johann Rammingner

(NJRS was formerly known as Renæssanceforum: Journal of Renaissance Studies)

ISSN 2597-0143. URL: www.njrs.dk/njrs_17_2020.htm

Table of Contents

Lærke Maria Andersen FUNDER & Trine Arlund HASS, Fickle models and flexible memories: a cultural memory perspective on humanist interaction with the past	1
Marianne PADE, Canon and Archive in Humanist Latin	11
Johann RAMMINGER, Language and Cultural Memory in the Antiquitates of Annius of Viterbo	35
Maren Rohde PIHLKJÆR, Changing Cultural Memory Through Translation: A new understanding of democracy	67
Anders Kirk BORGGÅRD, Nouus Æneas Lutheranus : Canonical archives and the creation of meaning in Johannes Sascerides' Epicedium in obitum Christiani Tertij (1559)	83
Trine Arlund HASS, Remembering Caesar: Mnemonic aspects of intertextuality in Erasmus Lætus' Romanorum Cæsares Italici	107
Matthew NORRIS, In Search of the Three Crowns: Conserving, restoring, and reproducing cultural memory in early modern Sweden	125

Appendix

Lærke Maria Andersen FUNDER, Remembering the Ideal Museum: The reception of Museum Wormianum in early modern museography*	155
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

* Due to the time constraints of the present publication this article is not included in the present volume. It will be added subsequently.